

Host a Training at Your Agency

Professional Training Courses at Your Agency Location

Through our professional training courses and publications, the Benefits Plus Learning Center equips social service professionals with information, resources, and tools on government benefit and housing programs so they can effectively advocate for their clients. To learn more about our program visit us at <https://bplc.cssny.org>.

Training at your agency site is a convenient option for nonprofit organizations who need to train staff on the ever-changing government benefit system.

Choose from an array of courses on public benefit and housing programs with the ability to customize course materials to meet your staff development needs. All our training courses are approved for continuing education credit for LMSW/LCSW. For a listing of our trainings visit: https://bplc.cssny.org/home/host_training.
